We understand how difficult navigating the dating world can be. Would you like to learn more about yourself and relationships so that you can select a loving and compatible partner?

Join us for this introspective workshop designed to help you identify and create happy and successful relationships.

Topics include:

- the warning signs of difficult partners (including a look at yourself)
- what makes a relationship work and predictors for marital satisfaction
- how family contributes to your relationship (past, present and future)
- skills needed for building and maintaining a loving, strong relationship

Registration available at (281) 894-7222 or by emailing events@shieldbearer.org. $59 includes lunch, snacks, and take home materials.
